Greg Biffle found Victory Lane for the first time this season and made a giant leap toward the top of the NASCAR Sprint Cup standings. Biffle passed Jimmie Johnson on Lap 289 of Sunday's Sylvania 300 at New Hampshire Motor Speedway and held on for the victory, the 10th of his career and his first since winning at Kansas Speedway in the third race of the Chase for the NASCAR Sprint Cup last year. In winning the first Chase event of 2008, Biffle crossed the finish line .305 seconds ahead of Johnson. Carl Edwards ran third, followed by Jeff Burton and Dale Earnhardt, Jr. Biffle had been saving his best effort for the end of the race, and when Johnson's car got loose after a restart on Lap 289, Biffle made the winning pass a lap later through Turns 3 and 4. Two cautions during the last 33 laps helped him save the fuel he needed for the closing green-flag run. "The Turbo HD Ford really wanted to go, but I was holding back at the end and there - at the middle part of that run - and then we got those cautions, thankfully," Biffle said. "That's what my plan was inside the car, close up on Jimmie Johnson and get us a shot at him. I was a little better than him on that short run. He was a little bit loose - and I knew it."
